ARTICLE VI MEMBERSHIP

Section 1. All current dues paying members will be required to be current members of the National Rifle Association (NRA). The membership of the club shall be divided into seven (7) classifications:

A. GENERAL MEMBERSHIP The general membership of the club shall consist of persons of a minimum eighteen (18) years of age or older who shall enjoy all the rights and privileges of the club, to vote, hold office, and participate generally in the affairs of the club. The first one hundred twenty (120) days of membership shall be probationary. General membership in the club shall be obtained through the following steps:

1) The applicant shall be a minimum of eighteen (18) years old or older, of good character, and without a felony conviction. The applicant shall have a sponsor from the current membership, who must be in good standing.

2) The application (on a form approved by the Executive committee), may be submitted to the secretary of the club before a meeting, with a check for the current dues and initiation fee. The dues shall be payable pro-rated (1/12) of the year for each month remaining in the year, including the month in which the application for membership is presented.

3 a) the applicant can be presented to the membership by the sponsor at the next regular meeting of the club. The applicant shall not be present for the discussion of the application and vote. If two thirds (2/3) of the members present and eligible to vote reject the application the dues/initiation fee check will be returned to the applicant.

3 b) The applicant may apply to the Executive Committee for membership in months between regular scheduled meetings. The Executive Committee may approve memberships. Such memberships will be considered provisional until final approval by the membership at the next scheduled meeting. Any membership not approved will be refunded only the balance from the current month of rejection to the end of the year and the initiation fee. Upon satisfying safety requirements set forth by the executive committee, the committee may issue a temporary key to a provisional member for club use prior to the next scheduled general meeting.

3 c) A member, in good standing, may suspend membership for an indefinite period of time by submitting a request in writing and returning the club key if one has been issued. Acceptance of such a request shall be automatic. Such a member will be reinstated upon written request and upon payment of the current year's dues.

B. HONORARY MEMBERSHIP: renewed annually, which shall include members solicited for various reasons to increase the prestige of the club and who are on record of this club. Those elected for honorary membership shall pay no dues or work-pay assessment to the club, cannot hold office, cannot have a privilege to vote, but may participate generally in the affairs of the club.

C. SENIOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP: A member who upon completing ten (10) consecutive years of active membership in good standing and reaching the age of sixty-two (62) years of age, shall pay no dues or work-pay assessment, and shall enjoy full privileged of membership in this club. New Senior Life Memberships effective February 2003 meeting the above requirements of Senior Life Membership shall pay dues in the amount of one half (1/2) annual dues of regular membership, be exempt from work pay assessment, and shall enjoy full privileged membership in this club.

Effective November 1, 2018: New members voted into membership after November 1, 2018 will not be eligible for New Senior Life Membership.

D. SPECIAL-LIFE MEMBERSHIP: Is voted by two thirds (2/3) of the membership present at the annual meeting. Any person who is currently a member in good standing who by deed or other action promotes the welfare of the club beyond reasonable expectations, shall pay no dues or work-pay assessment, and shall enjoy all privileges of membership in the club. New Special Life Membership awarded after February 2003 shall pay dues in the amount of one half (1/2) annual dues of regular membership, be exempt from work pay assessment and shall enjoy full privilege membership in this club.
